Rural Development National Problem. Says Dr. Butler

"The problem of rural development is a national problem," Dr. Tait Butler, editor of the Progressive Farmer, told the members of the Country Life conference at the West Tennessee Normal school Tuesday morning. "The problem," said Dr. Butler, "is unique neither to the North nor South, nor any other for improvement of rural communities in New York state and Iowa as in Tennessee, Arkansas or Mississippi." Statistics, he said, would show that 54 per cent of the population of this section is in the rural communities, yet a great deal more is being done for the betterment of city life than for country life.

Better education he believed to be one of the chlef means toward solving the problem of rural development. This part of the problem must be solved before rural communities can be built up, he said. Rural women must be trained to become better wives and mothers, and better homemakers. Rural teachers, rural doctors, rural preachers and farmers must all be better educated. "The rural problem," declared Dr Butler, "must be solved with rural things. Rural textbooks and rural organization must be used; city textbooks and city organization can not succeed." A questionnaire sent through the rural communities of this section had shown, Dr. Butler said, that 42 per cent of the people of rural communities get their information from the daily papers and farm journais; 10 per cent from books and other reading material. He said that rural peoples must be encouraged to read more and get more ideas from the outside world.

The first step toward solving the rural problem, should be, Dr. Butler said, the searching out of the true problem, whether it be better schools, better church, more livestock or what not.

The Rev. R. A. N. Wilson, of c'anola e. Better education he believed to be one better church, more livestock of what not.

The Rev. R. A. N. Wilson, of ranola county, Miss., pronounced the invocation at the opening of the second day's session of the conference. Tuesday morning. He later led in several of the round table discussions.

A wire was received by Dr. A. A. Kincannon, who is presiding over the conference, from P. P. Claxton, U. S. commissioner of education, stating that representatives of his department are en route to the conference. They are expected to arrive Wednesday.

Pistol Empty; One Youth Shot; Women Thrown Into Panic

Members of the household went into a panic and an alarm was flashed to the central police office, that a woman had been shot. When Policemen Brunner and Morehead of the emergency squad arrived they learned that while none of the gentler sex had been hurt, they had done their bit in screaming.

Caraway's wound was not considered serious by the surgeon who attended him at his home. The youths are staunch friends and no arrest was made.

MOLLIE QUIRK AGAIN AFTER KALLAHER MONEY

The morning session of United States district court Tuesday was consumed in arguments regarding the admissibility of testimony in the case of Mollie Quirk, who is suing the estate of the late Patrick Kallaher for $400,000, alleged to be due her for almost an entire lifetime of services as companion without any compensation. The basis for action is founded to a great degree on a promise said to have been made to Miss Quirk by Kallaher between 1910 and 1912.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN INDICTED BY JURORS

Mrs. Lillian Hollowell, young mother who attracted considerable attention about two months ago, when she made a target of her youthful husband, severely wounding him, at Union avenue and Wellington street, again broke into prominence of an unenviable sort Tuesday, when three indictments were returned against her, charging larceny. The complaining witnesses were representatives of B. Lowenstein & Bro., Goldsmith's and Sanders & Co. They lost, via the shoplifting route, respectively $82, $61 and $33 in wearing apparel. Mabel Jones also was named in the three indictments with Mrs. Hollowell.

the three indictments with Mrs. Hollo-well.

The two already are under indict-ment on two similar charges. Both are in the county jail.

Fifteen other indictments were re-turned by the grand jury Tuesday, Most of them were for minor offenses.

ASKS DIVORCE, SAYING HUBBY WILL NOT WORK

Emma Watson allows, in a declaration filed in circuit court Tuesday asking for divorce from C. M. Watson, that she got a rough deal in the matrimonial market.

She asserts she and Watson were married in March, 1919, at a time when she just had undergone a severe operation, was not expected to recover, and was confined to her bed. She says she has money and property. She says she has money and property. She says she has money and property. She says that Watson insisted upon the marriage, although she wasn't enthusiastic. Emma claims that since the marriage ceremony was performed. C. M. has not worked, nor contributed to her support, and that he expects her to support him.

W. M. Phillips also filed suit against Fannie Phillips, in circuit court. He Fannie Phillips, in circuit court, alleges that she deserted him.

M'LAIN'S SHIRT WAS TOO NOISY FOR COURT

William Tyler McLain, assistant state's attorney, was the direct cause of a minor disturbance in first criminal court Tuesday morning, just after court was opened.

"Mac" appeared clad in a new shirt, pink with baby blue stripes standing boldly out.

M. W. Palmer, deputy sheriff, took one searching look at the shirt. Then he cried, for the second time. "Order in the court."

GERMAN SAILORS SHOT BY OFFICERS, MAN SAYS

THURSO, Scotland, June 24. (By the THURSO, Scotland, June 24 (By the Associated Press.)—German sallors were shot by their own officers when they attempted to obey commands of British officers to return to their ships and shut the seacocks. This statement was made by Lieut. Nutuall, of the steamer Almette, who reached here from Scapa Flow.

"I pulled alongside a German destroyer when I saw the ship begin to settle," sald Nuttall, "and ordered the Germans back to close the seacocks. Four or five turned back, whereupon the German back to close the seacocks. Four or five turned back, whereupon the German of them dropped. Others among the Germans then returned and closed the seacocks. The Germans were also driven back to four or five other destroyers and closed the seacocks in time to keep the vessels affoat."

Lieut. Nuttall, reports that the Emden has been pumped out and is new affoat. The Baden's crew were forced back to that vessel and compelled to shut the seacocks.

"Directly the first red flag and German ensign were hoisted on the first battleship," he added, 'the German admiral put off in a motor boat to the British air station ashore. He stated that the ships were sinking, and requested assistance. The admiral was arrested. Naval men believe the trip was a ruse to lead to the belief that the crews were taking charge of the ships. This however, was not substantiated by what actually happened,"

JUNIOR "Y" CAMP PUTS IN NEW MERIT SYSTEM

The merit system, which is beginning to have a beneficial effect at the Junior Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Mammoth Spring, Ark, has resulted in some interesting contests for supremacy among the various tents. Tenta No. 1, 5 and 7 tied for first honors and upon recommendation. Tent No. 7 was given the honor of flying the national colors. Points are awarded to each boy who suggests or makes improvements in the camp.

COTTON MARKETS

Cables Good and Weather Bad But Considerable Liquidation-Peace Discounted.

Cables from Liverpool were good today, while the weather in the heit as a whole was unfavorable, yet the speculative market had a lot of liquidation to absorb. The result of this was that the affair failed to go through the highs of yesterday and some observers were of the opinion that the affair was suffering from fatigue and a weakened technical condition. One of the favorite excuses for the liquidation and some professional selling was that the practical coming of peace had been discounted. The reactionary disposition shown in stocks and in the grain and provisions market was attributed to this same thing, and probably there was ample basis for the theory. That the market was made healther by the way it acted was not doubted and those who were buillan on cotton suffered no pangs of fear or unearlness as to the price level goving materially higher later.

Liverpool early advices did not tell anything about the Manchesier strike Tuesday Afternoon, June 24.

pangs of fear or uneasiness as to the price level goving materially higher later.

Liverpool early advices did not tell anything about the Manchester strike having been adjusted, but the action of the market suggested that it was either about done or it was expected it would be soon, while some private information said it had been. The list was sharply higher than due in the early trading and most of the gains were held until the close, the list finishing irregular at an advance of 28 to 5 points. In the spot department business was light, only 3,900 bales changing hands, quotations marked up 45 points, middling to 20.24d. Receipts for the day were 19,000 bales, including 4,200 American.

There was not much change from the previous close in first prices in New York, but New Orleags was up something like a quarter of a cent. Evidently the notion that the peace news had been discounted prevailed, for there was but little demand and from Wall street sources there came considerable volume of offerings. The report of considerable rains in the belt gave a temporary boost to prices and October, after opening at 25.50c, sold up 32.63c, but there was then a dip to 31.72c, or practically 100 points from yesterday's stop. The weather and crop news failed to get traders attention while this liquidating wave was on.

The recovery from the bottom came quickly, but there was not much willingeness to sell, for it was recognized that the crop was not faring well and the condition reports are likely to confirm even some of the most radical reports.

firm even some of the most radical reports.

The weekly summary of weather tomorrow is expected to be bullish, although there are some sections which are not faring so badly. The private reports are expected to come freely within the next few days, as tomorrow is the last day to be included in the July report. Not only are the continued showers increasing the necessity for abandoning fields, but they are ideal for the spread of the weevil, which is likely to take an unusual toil because of their number and the lateness of the crop.

NEW YORK COTTON. NEW YORK, June 24.- The cotton NEW YORK, June 24.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 10 to 18 points on relatively, steady cables, reports that the Lancashire strike had been settled and the peace news. July sold up to 32.76c and October to 32.6c right after the call, or 20 to 25 points net higher, and there was some buying here for Southern account which was probably promoted by the rains reported in the Memphis district. The advance met a good deal of realizing, particularly from Wall street sources, however, and prices soon eased off to 32.4cc for July and 32.27c for October, or about 10 to 15 points lower.

Rumors of unsettling political de-Numers of unsettling political de-relopments in Germany second to stimulate selling the middle of the morning and stop orders were uncovered on the break to 31.71 for October and 31.65 for December, or about 55 to 10 points net lower. The market then steadied on covering and a renewal of bull support with October ruling around 25.20 at middley.

The market was only moderately active, but showed continued nervousness during the early afternoon owing partly to heaviness in the stock market and talk of tight money rates. October ruled around $32.01 shortly after 10 clock, or about 55 points net lower. Futures closed steady at decline of 3 to 15 points.

GRAIN MARKETS

Discounting of Peace Effects Induces Reaction in Corn. Oats Also Off Some.

CHICAGO, June 24.—Weakness manifested itself in the corn market today largely as a result of opinions that peace had been well discounted in advance. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 to 23/c lower, with July $1.80\frac{1}{2}$ to $1.81\frac{1}{2}$ and September $1.78\frac{1}{2}$ to $1.77\frac{1}{2}$, were followed by moderate railies.

31.774, were followed by moderate railies.

Subsequently, favorable weather for the growing crop received notice as an additional bearish factor. Liquidating sales by holders increased, and at one time September was down nearly 6c under yesterday's top. The market closed nervous, at 3 to 4c net decline, with July 178% to 180; September 174% to 174% and December 182% to 152%.

Oats was off with corn. After opening %c down to %c advance, including September at 70%c to 71c, the market underwent a sag all around.

Sympathy with the weakness of hogs and corn led to a fall in provisions.

a rainy June, whereas for the best of crop it should be a fairly dry month. There was much cloudiness and he of sunshine. The crop is losing time and lacks constitution.—Clark & Co. New Orleans—Sensationally good Lay erpool in face of strike situation. Fo litien news and bad weather all mak-ing for higher prices.—Fenner to Gus tafson.

New Orleans—According to private cablegrams the Manchester strike is settled and this would explain the wide rise in Liverpool contracts. Weld cables Very narrow market, but steady, firmer on the near months, on the settlement of the strike There was a little continental buying of the new crops, but business done was much

New York—Floor says: "General selling, stop orders being reached caused by report that Germany will not sign terms, causing weakness in cotton. —Fallon.

-Paion

New Orleans-There are no new development in the Manchester strike. New York again reports cotton goods firmer and higher and several large mills have been forced to make allouments among purchasers owing to oversold conditions—Shepard & Gluck New Orleans—Market reflected nerv-ous condition, but liquidation of longs on all bulges keeps technical position healthy and railies on any favorable de-velopment—Gluck.

New York Cotton opinions: Bond McEnany Everything soundered New York—Colton opinions: Hond McEnnary "Everything somethered, we believe market will meet with only temporary setbacks and think cotton should be bought whenever it is pressed for sais." Orvis Bros.—"As demand continues strong there is nething more natural to expect than advice to a point where cotton will not be soon attractive to buy."

New Orleans—Committee appointed to confer with Burieson to obtain for telegraphers the same concessions which were granted to electrical and telephone workers, which if granted would end the telegraph strike.—Clark & Co.

New Orleans—Cannot see any im-provement in weather outlook, Man in-dicates continued cloudy, showers weather in the belt, although there may not be much rain in the west, but eastern half will get plenty of it,— Clark & Co.

New York—Wall street houses keep in selling October freely. Some outside equidation coming in also.—Hubbard to

New Orleans-Professionals playing for some realizations paying for some realization reactions to check advance and give market solidity. With continued bad weather and such a dry goods situation as exists, do not think market can react much. Chances favor increased trade outlet and exportation.

New York—Wall street selling on idea, peace discounted; understand private cross reports coming below 70.—Hub-bard to Reese. New Orleans-In 1914 the six million

New Orleans—In 1914 the six million odd farms of the United States produced crops over $6,000,000,000 value, an average of about $970 per farm. In 1917 the amount was $13,600,000,000, or more than $2,000 per farm. In 1918 the average production per farm was estimated at a value of $2,500, and it will globably be $3,000 this year. Now that the great consuming countries of Central and Eastern Europe will likely be shortly opened to commerce for the first time since August, 1914 it is reassonable to expect that the demand for the products of the American farms and manufacturers will gradually improve until it reaches large proportions, which should serve to sustain the present level of values, perhaps occasion higher prices.—II. & B. Beer.

New Orleans—Liquidation is about all prices.—H. & B. Beer.

New Orleans—Liquidation is about all there is to the market, short offerings would be large but for the extremely unfavorable crop accounts which are coming from most sections of the belt. Some portions of Georgia and Carolina continue to send, in very good reports.—Shepard & Gluck.

New Orleans—A local freight broker redicts that New Orleans will clear t least 190,000 bales of cotton within he next twe to three weeks, New Orleans—Tomorrow ends the record condition period of the season, and a good line on conditions should be gained from the weekly crop resorts at 10 o'clock in the morning—Shepard & Gluck.

Shepard & Gluck.
New Orleans—The New Orleans cotton exchange commission rate has been raised, effective Tuesday. July 1. New rates will be $10 for members, $20 for nonmembers on trades made at 15c and below, $12.50 for members and $25 for nonmembers or trades made at 15.01c and above. London-Consols & off at 53%.

Lendon-Consols & off at 53%.

Columbus, Ga.—Many reports coming from every section adjacent to Columbus of abandenment of cotton crop because of excessive rains, heavy grass and prevalence of boll weevils. I do not recall a gloomier outlook for this territory.—Humber.

New Orleans—This is last notice day for June and no notices as yet. New Orleans—Bullish news seem iscounted for time being: would ad-rise buying only on good breaks— Weld & White to Cotter & Turner.

New York—Fair commission house demand, map unfavorable, stock mar-cet soft: business rather light—Cleve to Cotter & Turner. New Orienne—I have seen letters from new spinners' association formed in former Austria to import cotton under joint guarantee. They ask for immediate offer of 20,000 bales and want a larger quantity per month after July.—Clark & Co.

Clark & Co.

New Orleans—Market broke on Wall street Heuidation based on the slogan that "peace is discounted," but the advance in cotton is not based loss on the peace treaty than on the buillely weather, crop and dry goods situations. Don't think cotton will make much concession—Clark & Co.
